New material: Using contractions

Explain that two words are sometimes combined into one word. An apostrophe takes the place of the "left out" letters. Take time to discuss how contractions are used in everyday speech by brainstorming more sentences where you might use a contraction.

Contractions with "not" spelled as "n't":

is not	isn't	She isn't here.
did not	didn't	He didn't stay for lunch.
could not	couldn't	She couldn't fix the problem.
should not	shouldn't	We shouldn't stay out late.
would not	wouldn't	I wouldn't like that.
were not	weren't	They weren't home.
was not	wasn't	I wasn't there yet.
do not	don't	I don't like the taste of fish.
will not	won't	She won't go on the ride.
are not	aren't	They aren't coming.

Other common contractions:

let us	S	Let's go snopping.
have	ve	We've got a lot to do.
is	S	It's starting. She's sweet.
would	d	He'd take the job. They'd love it here.

New material: Consonant-le syllables

Explain that the sixth and final syllable type is consonantle. Unlike the other syllable types, consonant-le cannot stand on its own and always comes after another syllable.

Review the first five syllable types with your student:

closed: (short vowels closed with one or more consonants) cat open: (long vowel not closed with a consonant) be and music silent e: (a silent e follows a vowel and consonant) bake vowel team: (two or more vowels together make one sound) boat

r-controlled (an r follows a vowel and changes the vowel sound to "er," "or," "ar") barn

Make the sounds with your student and have your students write the lowercase letters of these sounds on a whiteboard three times while saying the sound. Create flashcards for the sound-letter deck:

ble (which makes the sound "bul" as in dribble)

fle (which makes the sound "ful" as in sniffle)

tle (which makes the sound "tul" as in beetle)

dle (which makes the sound "dul" as in needle) gle (which makes the sound "gul" as in bugle) kle (which makes the sound "kul" as in sparkle)

ple (which makes the sound "pul" as in purple)

zle (which makes the sound "zul" as in drizzle)

Explain that to keep the vowel sound short, there must be two consonants before the "le." If there is only one consonant before the "-le," the preceding consonant is doubled (as in "battle" and "dribble"). When the vowel is long, as in "table," there is only one consonant before the "le."
